Why I Built This?

As a Mandarin tutor, I noticed that traditional textbook-based learning could sometimes feel repetitive and less engaging for students. To create a more interactive learning experience, I developed EZ Mandarin APP as a platform that combines quizzes, flashcards, and structured learning paths to support both teaching and self-learning.

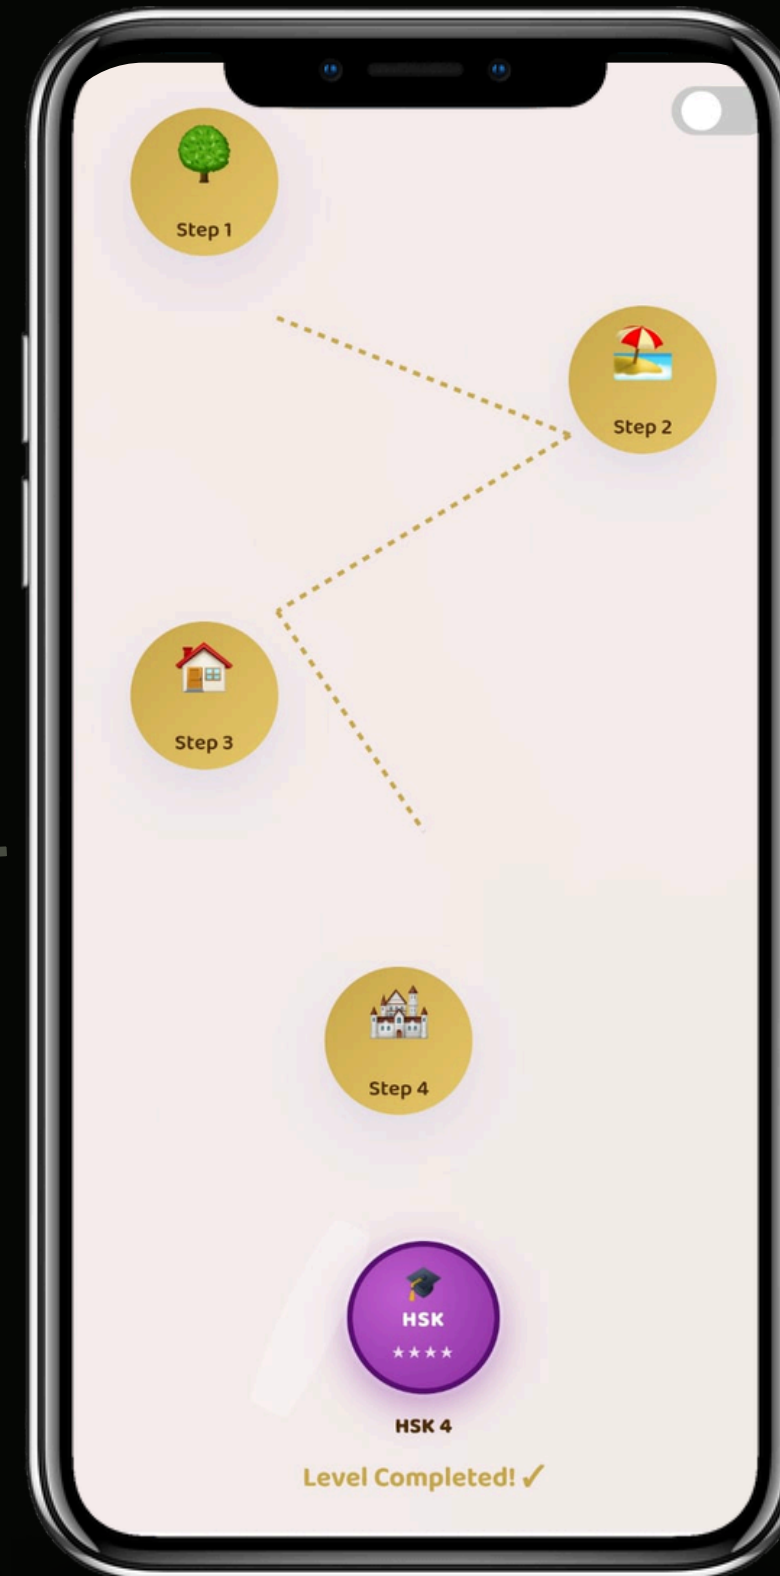

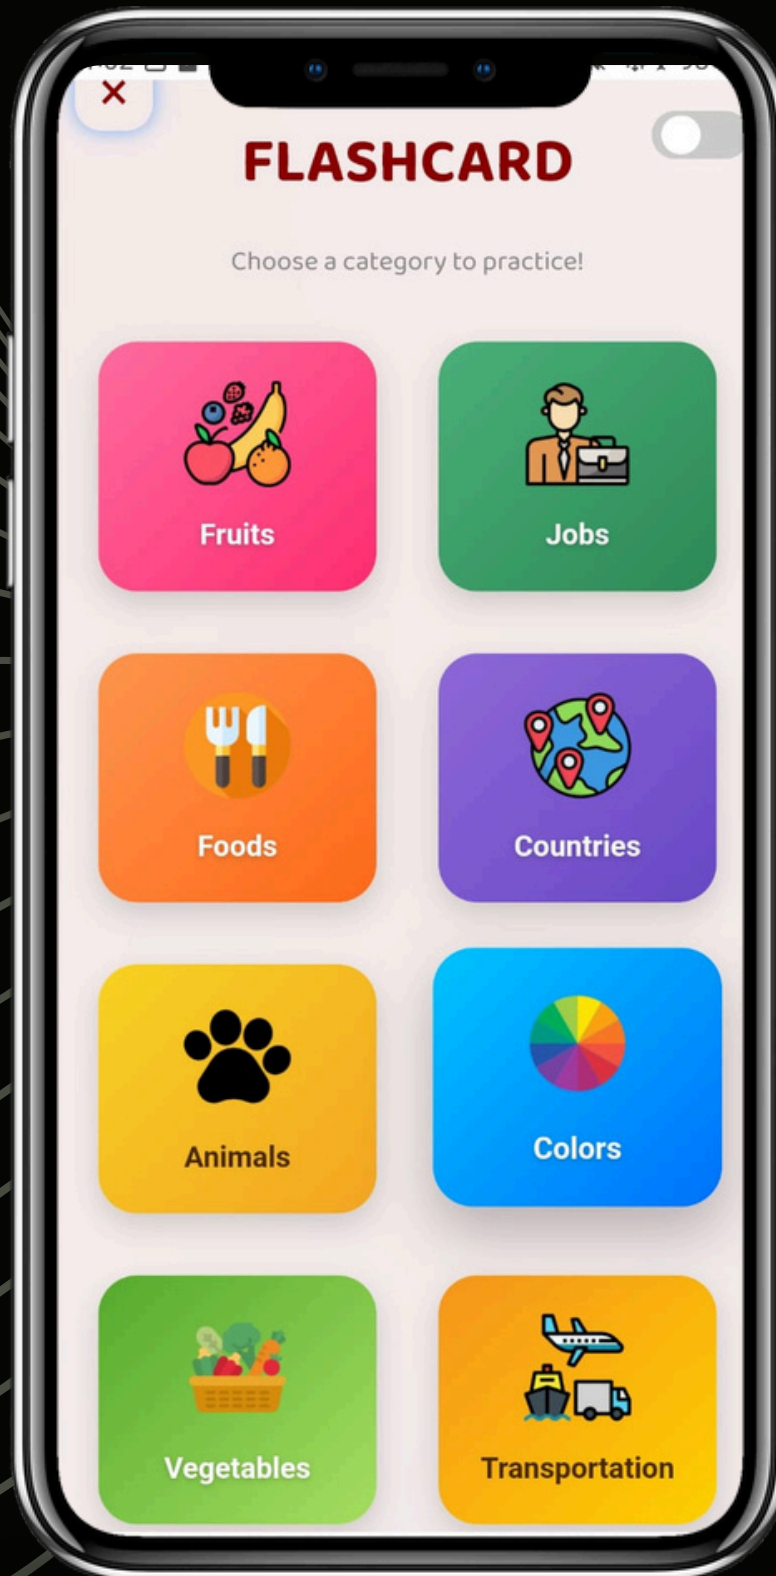

The application was designed with a focus on user engagement, accessibility, and enjoyable learning interactions to help students stay motivated while studying Mandarin.

Why I Built This?

As a university student managing income from tutoring, I realized that I often tracked my spending poorly and found many budgeting applications overly complicated for daily use. This inspired me to create SpenD APP.

A simple and user-friendly budgeting application designed to help students and young users monitor their expenses more comfortably.

After sharing the application with friends, I received positive feedback about how the simplified interface and budgeting flow helped them become more aware of their spending habits.
